Lenox precedes the two Metropolitan Golf Association clubs with its list of conditions and erents, possibly in the case of Tuxedo, because there is some talk of that club changing its dates to avoid a conflict with the golfing fixture in the Berkshire Hills. Each is an annual tournament made conspicuous by the social promimeace we the players, as well as by the good matches put up by the home men against the visiting stars, so that there are many to regret that a rearrangement cannot be arrived at. However, as on the racing circuits, the allotted dates of the Metropolitan Golf Association are settled early in the spring, and, as Lenox failed to consult that body in time, it is hard to see what can be done, this season at least, to change the golfing days or places. A further complication in the M. G. A. is that the Englewood Golf Club is so pleased with its new links and club house that it intends to hold an open competition, while both the Dyker Meadow and Ardsley

Cazenovia. Aug. 29.—The second annual journament of the Cazenovia Golf Club was brought to a successful close yesterday. The course was laid out on the estate of Charles B. Fairchild. An intervation at golf tournaments after the play each afternoon was the serving of linchen on each of the jutting greens, a serve of maids and matrons acting as hostesses at each spread. The effect was unique, pleasing, and pleturesque. The members showed a steat arvance over the form in last year's fourney, which is due in a marked degree to the coaching skill of T. L. Barker, the Washington professional, who has been at Cazenovia this season.

this season.
There were twenty-three starters in the qualifies their round for the Cazenovia Cupon Wednesday, and the eight best scores were:

If Leech 98; W. Griffith, 199; H. Burden, 2d, 184; Ornsty McCammon, 108; Wolters Ledyard, 109; H. Krumchaar, Jr., 199; M. Monks, 114, and br. Gerrit Smith, 114.

Leech won the prize for the best score, but suffered defeat in the final round at match play for the cup at the hands of Griffith, losing by 1 ap after nineteen holes. The Consolation Cup was won by Horstman, who beat Pruyn by 1 up, through the aid of a long put on the home green. There was again a large field in the medal play handleap on Saturday for the Owangens medals. In this match H. Krumbhaar, Jr., won the gold medal, with a handleap of 9, and Ledyard, with an allowance of 9, won the silver medal.

Bar Harnon, Aug. 29.—The fourth round in the Green Cup tournament was something of a surprise. The only match achosouled for yesterday was that between George T. Newhall of the Philadelphia Country Club and Herbert is the country Club. Leeds won by 8 up and 7.10 go. This was his first victory in the four days' play. Newhall was regarded as a sure winner, but he showed an unaccountable lack of form. Leeds, on the other hand, played the best game.

Training on the Harlem and Racing on Flush-

There was any quantity of rowing yesterday on the Harlem River, but the bulk of it was what is commonly called pleasure rowing, as the river will not furnish a bountiful supply of entries this season for the Middle States regatta. The entries close to-day, and from pres ent indications some of the events will scarcely

Among the latest entries is the senior fourpared crew of the Harlem Rowing Club. The crew was organized last evening, and it took its first practice spin. It is composed of William Aman, bow; Clarence Mase, 2; John E. Nagle, 3, and Joseph Mahr, stroke. Mase will Ritter, the stroke oar of the crew, will be able gatta takes place. Fred Schafer will row in the junior singles and also in the intermediate singles. O'Connell and Trier will row in the junior doubles. Schafer is rowing very fast. and it is believed that he will win both the junior and intermediate single-scull events.

Fitzpatrick, the professional, has made won derful progress with the junior four-oared now handling themselves in a creditable man ner. Theco and Powers, the junior doubles of the ner.

Theco and Powers, the junior doubles of the Nassau Boat Club, are still in hard practice for the Middle States, but the intermediate double and the junior four-pared shell crew have ceased rowing, which is an indication that they will not be entered.

The Harlems had two junior doubles in training for the Middle States regatta, O'Connell and Trier and Topping and Lloyd. They had their trial race yesterday over the regular mile course, in order to see which crew should be entered. The race attracted considerable attention and was won by O'Connell and Trier by fully two lengths.

Much activity was shown by the Atalantas, who were out in force. They will make four entries in the Middle States—a junior single, an intermediate single, a senior four, and a senior eight. Van Roden was coaching the four yesterday and has them in pretty good trim.

The Unions have a junior sight and also a an intermediate single, a senior four, and a senior eight. Van Hodon was coaching the four yesterday and has them in pretty good trim.

The Unions have a junior eight and also a senior eight: the Dauntless, a junior double; the Nonparelis, a senior double; the Friendships, a junior single; the Metropolitans, a junior four-oared gig crew, and the First Bohemians, a junior single and a junior eight-oared shell crew.

The annual regatta of the Fiushing Boat Club was held yesterday afternoon on Flushing Hay, and proved very successful. The day was bright and clear, and the water as smooth as a mirror. There were many barge loads present from the Harlem litver and other localities. There were also many saling craft lined all along the course, where a good view of the races could be had. Chief interest centred in the special match race between E. H. Merle of the Varuna Boat Club and Frank Scolze of the Flushing Hoat Club. The former is the Varuna's crack intermediate sculier, who won the junior single and also the handicap single at the Long Island regatta in 1895, while Scolze is the bow oar of the Flushing's intermediate four-oared shell crew which won the Eagle Cup race at the Long Island regatta recently. The boys were supposed to be admirably matched, and a close and exciting race was expected, the betting being even. They made several excellent starts, but did not seem able to keep out of each other's way, and they were sent back repeatedly for fouling. After so many futile spurts the Flushing man was the fresher, and he won the race with comparative ease by at least 100 yards. The course for the club races was half a mile. The junior shell race developed a "wonder" in H. Hilvers, who won the race by fully a quarter of a mile. He will be entered in the Middle States regatta. The summary:

Novice Single Gigs—Won by Harry Barros, Joseph

Single Shells-Won by H. Hilvers, Pat Connors seconds.
Single Shells-Won by H. Hilvers, Pat Connors second. Time, 8 minutes 35 seconds.
Single Shells-One-Mile Match Race.—F. Scolze beat E. H. Merle. Time, 7 minutes 15 seconds.

Huntington Yacht Club News.

The special regatta of the Huntington Vacht Club, which was scheduled for Saturday afternoon, was postponed on account of lack of wind and will be togers, Chairman of the Regatta Committee, has re Rogers, Chairman of the Regatta Committee, has resigned his office as the result of trouble arising from a protest made a week ago by Rear-Commodore H. H. Gordon regarding the sailing of the sloop Carita, the joint property of Mr. Rogers and J. W. Shepard, which was sailed by George Brown, whom Commodore Gordon cialms to be a professional.

Rogers contends that Brown is a Corinthian under the rule, and as a result of the difference Commodore Gordon called attention to the clause in the racing rules which states that no member racing a boat shall serve on the Regatta Committee, resulting in Mr. Rogers's resignation. The members and the suests participated in a dance during the evening, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Cricket.

The Brooklyn Cricket Club, by its victory over the second team of the New Jersey A. Paterson moves up to second place and New Jersey and third. In the batting averages of the League the games of the past two weeks have caused a thorough change in the figures and positions.
